STILL POURING IN.

Reports of 225 New Cases of Fever Received To-Day.

THERE IS MUCH DOUBT THAT THE DISEASE IS TYPHOID.

The Water Supply Free From "Bacilli Typhoid"—Dr. Atkinson of the State Health Board Believes the Fever to Be Malarial—The Death Rate Still Low.

At 11 o'clock to-day the total number of new cases of fever reported to the city sanitary office as "typhoid fever" since Saturday night last reached 225. This includes all of yesterday's reports and those of to-day's morning mail. By to-night, at this same ratio, it is expected that probably seventy-five additional cases will have been reported, making the total for two days reach 300, which will not be an increase over the average of the closing days of last week.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the regular weekly meeting of the Board of Health will be held at the Health Commissioner's office, at which time the prevalence of the fever reported as "typhoid fever" will be the one subject for official consideration. It may be that the Board of Health, in view of certain reports, facts and figures, that will be laid before them at to-day's meeting, will see fit to express official doubt of the existence of typhoid fever in epidemic form in St. Louis at the present time.

THE TYPHOID GERM NOT FOUND.

The first report supporting the theory that the fever now so prevalent throughout the city is not typhoid, will be that of City Chemist Sullivan. For a week, past, Dr. Sullivan has been making a most careful and exhaustive microscopic examination of the city's water supply for the purpose of definitely ascertaining if the water used by St. Louis contains the germ of typhoid fever. Dr. Sullivan's report, which will be brief, will state that his examination has utterly failed to find the "bacilli typhoid" existing in the water supply of St. Louis, and that the water is comparatively free from any germ-life that might threaten the health of the city. It is a recognized fact that water used for drinking purposes may contain up to three per cent of organic matter without being dangerous to health, and Dr. Sullivan's report will show that St. Louis' water supply reveals a much lower percentage of organic matter than the above "safety" limit. The City Chemist believes that the result of his examination should at once dispel the theory that the city's water supply is responsible for the present prevalence of fever. To make assurance doubly sure, however, he has retained for chemical analysis a very faint indication of a certain fungus growth which was developed in the water used for the microscopic examination. It is possible for fever germs, typhoid or otherwise, to be propagated in such a manner as to be so minute that they would not be detected by the microscope. It is for that reason that the City Chemist will carry the examination of the city's water supply to its utmost limit.

REMARKABLY LOW DEATH RATE.

Another fact in this connection that will have its proper weight with the Board of Health is that the death rate accompanying the present epidemic of fever reported as typhoid, is expected that Chief Sanitary Officer Francis would have been able to make a full report from his office to the Health Board to-day, in which report the great contrast between the large number of cases of reported typhoid and the small number of deaths reported. The death rate, therefore, would be officially shown. Mr. Francis, however, will be unable to make a report at present, as the Board has at its command the figures already reported from the sanitary office, and the official records of the Health Board, and from these is also shown the strangely light death rate accompanying such a visitation of typhoid fever, if the fever is in reality typhoid.

In this connection also, attention is called to a letter, given in full below, from Dr. R. C. Atkinson, Secretary of the State Board of Health, in which he expresses his opinion, not only to the low death rate, but also to the absence of "typhoid symptoms" in the cases coming under his knowledge. The letter, in the report, Dr. Atkinson's carefully rendered opinion, all tending to throw doubt on the supposed fact of the widespread existence of typhoid fever in St. Louis at the present time. It might be well for deliberate and cautious study of the situation to take the place of the panic-stricken jumping to conclusions.

Dr. Atkinson's letter reads as follows:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

St. Louis, Nov. 27, 1894.

If I am permitted to use a few pages for the ventilation of my views regarding the nature of the epidemic now prevailing in St. Louis, I would be glad to do so. The reports of the State Board of Health, and the reports sent to the Health Office from the various localities, have been very conflicting. Some have reported typhoid fever, others malarial fever, and still others have reported no fever at all. It is difficult to see how the same epidemic can be of two different natures, and I am inclined to believe that the disease is malarial.

A Tremendous Rumpus

In the system is produced by a disorderly liver. Bile gets into the blood and gives a sallow tinge to the countenance and eyeballs, sick headaches ensue, the digestive organs are thrown out of gear, the bowels become constipated, there are pains through the right side and shoulder blade, the breath grows sour and the tongue furred, dizziness is frequent, especially on rising suddenly. This state of affairs could be broken by a cathartic, but the best remedy is a laxative. It is easily remedied with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which acts on the system, relieves all biliousness and indigestion, and promotes a regular action of the bowels, and is auxiliary of appetite and sleep. The Bitters is a superb specific for malarial and kidney trouble, rheumatism and debility. A wine-glassful three times a day.

TOLD IN A DREAM.

August Wassmans Has George Demand Arrested for Josie Simmons' Murder.

WHAT AN INVESTIGATION OF A SLEEPER'S VISION RESULTED IN.

Demand Tells an Apparently Straight Story of His Conduct on the Day of the Murder, and Accounts for Blood Stains Found on His Clothing—Further Investigation to Be Made.

The police have arrested another person suspected of being the murderer of Josie Simmons, who was found murdered in her home, on Sublet avenue near Elizabeth avenue, about a mile west of Tower Grove Park, on Oct. 11 last. A peculiar feature of the arrest is that it was the result of a dream. George Demand is the name of the person arrested. He is a barber, but was found working as a butcher's helper, for B. Muermann at 3835 Garfield avenue when arrested. He formerly ran a barber shop at 333 1/2 old Manchester road, but closed it on Oct. 5, six days before the Simmons murder. Blood stains, or something resembling blood stains, were found on his clothes, and a hat was found in his possession resembling the hat which was reported taken on the day of the murder from the house of Alex Volz, the neighbor of the Simmons murder. Blood stains, or something resembling blood stains, were found on his clothes, and a hat was found in his possession resembling the hat which was reported taken on the day of the murder from the house of Alex Volz, the neighbor of the Simmons murder. Blood stains, or something resembling blood stains, were found on his clothes, and a hat was found in his possession resembling the hat which was reported taken on the day of the murder from the house of Alex Volz, the neighbor of the Simmons murder.

THE ARREST KEPT QUIET.

Demand was arrested last Friday, but the matter was kept from the press because the authorities were working on the case to prove or disprove the suspicions against the prisoner. Demand is a man of about 35 years of age, of medium build, with dark hair, and is a native of Germany. He was arrested at his home, at 3835 Garfield avenue, and was taken to the police station. He was kept in custody until Saturday morning, when he was released on bail. He is now at large, and is expected to appear in court on Monday.

BURNED AT A MASQUEBALE.

The Toy Pistol's New Departure in Caron's Car.

An accident which created considerable excitement happened about midnight Saturday, at Turner Hall, during the Mikado Club's masquerade ball. A young lady representing the Mikado Club, who was dressed in a costume of a young girl, was carrying a toy pistol. She placed the pistol in her pocket, and then she was burned at the masquerade ball.

MERIT REWARDED.
Henry Ellers' Heroism Averted a Catastrophe.

New York, Nov. 28.—Secretary of the Navy Tracy, in General Order No. 40, has decided that Henry Ellers, recently a gunner's mate aboard the United States cruiser Philadelphia, be promoted to the position of acting gunner in the navy "for extraordinary heroism" displayed by him recently aboard that ship.

When the cruiser Philadelphia was at Baltimore recently, taking part in the sham attack on Fort Mifflin, a premature explosion occurred in one of the guns. The explosion came near resulting in the loss of three lives. Fragments of the burning particles from the premature exploded cartridge were hurled down the ammunition chutes to the very doors of the magazine. The appearance of these burning fragments came near occasioning a panic among the men of the powder division. Young Ellers was on duty at the time at the magazine entrance, and fully realizing the danger which was imminent, stood to his post until he had stamped out every burning fragment of cloth. The date of this affair was Sept. 17, 1892. Besides promoting young Ellers to the position of acting gunner, Secretary Tracy has secured for him, under the provisions of the act of the revised statutes, a medal of honor.

Wanted for Many Crimes.
Benjamin Rush, who was arrested Saturday by Detectives Thomas Tracy and Walsh, was taken to Warrenton, Mo., by Sheriff Wild last night to answer to the charges of assault to kill, assault to ravish, larceny, malicious mischief, carrying a dangerous weapon, and other crimes. Rush is a man of years, of respectable family and education, but he is said to be a victim of blood and thunder literature. One day last October he demanded drink of William Gauder of Warrenton, and not getting enough, he went outside and fired through the window. Gauder's horse and buggy were stolen, and the animal was tied to the railroad track and killed by a train. Rush is charged with the murder of Gauder.

It is said to have retired to the woods and organized an outlaw band after this, and about a month ago he attempted to assault a 15-year-old girl named Julia Venters, one of the citizens of the vicinity determined to capture him when this last misdeed of Rush's became known, and two weeks ago he was arrested, but escaped after two days' imprisonment and came to St. Louis. He was caught in this city near the residence of his aunt, on Laclede avenue near Ewing, where he was stopping.

CRACKS COMING TO EAST ST. LOUIS.
Plunger Chris Smith's Kendall stable, in charge of Johnny Hoffman, one of the most successful trainers in the city, is expected to arrive at East St. Louis this week. Hoffman applied for stable room some time ago, and general Manager Brooks assigned comfortable quarters for the string. It is not expected that Hoffman will bring any of his crack horses, but he is expected to bring a good number of his crack horses, but he is expected to bring a good number of his crack horses.

HER RECORD-BREAKING SEASON.
Nancy Hanks, 2-04, left Terre Haute June 25, to begin the greatest tour ever made by a horse. Beginning at Philadelphia July 11, she has trotted thirteen times in twelve tracks, two of which were kite-shaped and ten regulation. Her thirteen contests with time and the records were: Philadelphia, 2:11; Detroit, 2:15; New York, 2:15; Grand Rapids, 2:09; Chicago, 2:07; and 2:04; St. Paul, 2:07; St. Joseph, 2:06; Terre Haute, 2:04; New Albany, 2:06; Nashville, 2:05; Sedalia, 2:02. In all there were eight better than 2:08. It is likely there were six of these, allowing enough odds for the bicycle wheel, better than 2:08. Nancy's mile at Nashville was timed by a number of horsemen as low as 2:04, on a track one mile and one-half long. Bud Noble now has Nancy Hanks at Terre Haute, but it is possible that she may be sent East and temporarily retired from the turf. She has been in constant training since a year-old horse, and has over $20,000 this year, and her owner is desirous of breaking her to Arion, 2:10.

GIVE THE STRAIGHTWAY COURSE A TRIAL.
One of the New York papers, inspired by the fact that the Standard is to be started during the winter under Mr. Bonner's new covered track, suggests that the former queen of the turf be sent for a new record over the Monmouth Park straightway mile. The Standard should not be so easily deterred. It would take the initiative in a course that would be followed by the owners of the other tracks. The Standard is a record course the straight mile is bound to come, and it is a pity that such an excellent track as that at Long Branch can not be utilized. Mr. Bonner's objection that trials cannot be timed properly is no drawback, as electrical appliances could easily be devised so that accuracy would be assured. It is believed by many horsemen that a minute mark will first be reached over the straight course.

SAM BROWN'S YEARLING.
A dispatch from Mobile announces that the yearling belonging to Capt. S. Brown arrived there safely last week, and are now about to begin the work which will fit them to compete in the 2-year-old class next season. The train on which the yearlings were shipped was detained in north Alabama by a wreck, and several of the yearlings were injured. A promising filly by imported Richmond-Noble II. developed a fever and is dead. Those which will be put in training at Mobile comprised the pick of thirty yearlings bred to the sire of his Kentucky stock farm. Among the sires are Troubadour, Staystave, Masterpiece and imported Richmond.

ANOTHER USE FOR ALUMINUM.
Russia has tried an experiment with aluminum shoes for cavalry horses. A few horses in the Finland dragoons were shod with one aluminum shoe and three iron shoes each, the former being used on the hind feet, and the latter on the fore feet. The experiments lasted six weeks, and showed that the aluminum shoe was much better than the iron shoe. The foot better than the iron shoe. No aluminum shoe broke, and they were used over again for re-shoeing. The horses, however, were worked over hard and very stony ground, and the iron shoes were found to be much better than the aluminum shoes. Only one-third to one-fourth the weight of iron shoes.

TRICK TALK.
Gus Eastin of the firm of Eastin & Larrabee will train the stable next season. "Doc" Marr had charge of the horses last year and for some years past. The horses were the best of luck this season, and the crack, Post, though he proved himself a good race horse, did not come up to the mark. A report comes from San Francisco that Ed Corrihan offered $7,500 for the 3-year-old Wildwood, and that the horse had a judgment Wildwood recently won two races in succession on the same day. He ran a mile first, carrying 110 pounds, and a mile and twenty minutes' rest, started again in a mile and sixteenth, with 125 pounds, and won easily in 1:35.

LOUIS EZZEL WAS CALLED INTO THE STAND at Hawthorne Saturday and asked to explain the queer running of the race. The judge warned to handle his racers in a different way hereafter.

THE EASTERN SPORTING AUTHORITY SUGGESTS to the Board of Control that a rule be made requiring that the number of a horse be worn during the race, and the boy who is in charge of the horse be required to wear a number. This would enable spectators who are not familiar with the appearance of the horse to find out the number of the horse and place a bet according to his fancy.

JOCKEY WEAVER WAS SUSPENDED
at Hawthorne for his suspicious ride of Prince Henry on Friday.

THERE WILL BE RUNNING
all winter at Hawthorne, or at least so long as Roy keeps it open. Corrihan declared he will not close up and allow his old enemies to make money with him. He will run all winter, and would rather lose a little money during the winter than a good deal in the summer.

The M. A. C. has a floating debt and will not doubt have some years to come, unless the debt of the club is funded in which latter event the club will clear away this debt. It cannot be used for Sunday games. The playing of Sunday games, however, depended altogether upon future action of the league. If the club did decide to play Sunday games, it was important that it should have the privilege of arranging its dates accordingly. That is why the League granted the Chicago club the privilege of transferring games.

KILLED THE DOG BUT SCORED.
"Harry Dixey is the only actor who has not gone back on the base ball boys," said Capt. Anson the other day. "All last summer he was a constant visitor at all games, but he had transferred his allegiance from the New Yorks to the Boston, probably because he had a summer season there. One day while we were in the latter city Dixey drove out as usual in his backboard with his pet bull terrier, 'Jago,' on the seat by his side. He had a habit of never leaving his turnout, and always got right up back of left field. Dixey had been on the grounds about twenty minutes when Dahlen came to the bat and swiped the ball for three bags. It was one of those long, low, hard drives and sailed about ten feet over the left fielder's head in a direct line for Dixey. He couldn't get out of the way. In fact, he didn't even see it until he heard a sharp yelp at his side and poor Jago tumbled off his seat between the wheels. When the dog was picked up he was dead. The ball had broken his neck. What with the yellow backboard, the frightened horse and Dixey's excitement the whole field was in a state of confusion. It was fully ten minutes before we could get down to ball playing again, but Dahlen, the only man who didn't flinch at the affair, was consequently not very much rattled, scored on the death of Jago."

AT REACH AND THE RULES.
Regarding the proposed changes in the base ball rules, A. J. Reach of the Philadelphia club says that he, personally, is not in favor of making any alteration in the size of the diamond, but would like to see the pitcher set back from five to seven and one-half feet from the batter. They took fewer chances in stealing bases last season than ever before, because they were waiting for the next base runner to advance them by a sacrifice hit. Mr. Reach doesn't think it advisable to permit second and third bases to be overrun.

FOOT BALL.
The big Yale-Princeton game on Thanksgiving Day was a very gorgeous and largely attended affair, but from all accounts it was not nearly so interesting as such contests have been in former years. Aside from the fact that it was pretty much of a foregone conclusion that Yale would win, the game in itself was devoid of those features which go to make an athletic game exciting. The college football game is not a game of skill, but of brute force. The players are not trained to play the game, but are simply a bunch of raw recruits who are thrown together and are expected to play the game. The game is a game of brute force, and the players are not trained to play the game. The game is a game of brute force, and the players are not trained to play the game.
